Baby Animal Names

a sample from All About® Reading Level 4

In this activity, your student will become familiar with the names of baby animals such as kit, fry, and fawn. By learning the names of baby animals, your student will expand his vocabulary and reading comprehension.

Instructions

1. Print pages 3-4 (color) or 5-6 (black-and-white) of this activity back-to-back. Cut out the double-sided animal cards and the Mother and Baby labels.

2. Place the Mother and Baby labels on the table. Spread out the mother animal cards under the Mother label and the baby animal cards under the Baby label. Have your student choose a baby animal card and help the baby find its mother.

3. After matching the cards, read the animal names together with your child.

4. Continue until all the baby animals have found their mothers.

More Animal Names

You may wish to share these additional “mother and baby” names with your student.
