

Spring Picture Books

From buds on trees to sprouting seeds and baby animals, there's always something new to discover when winter melts away and new life begins to blossom. Celebrate spring with this delightful collection of picture books.

Visit blog.allaboutlearningpress.com/picture-books-spring to learn more.

Library Checklist

- The Happy Day* by Ruth Krauss
- Ten Seeds* by Ruth Brown
- Spring: An Alphabet Acrostic* by Steven Schnur
- Who Likes Rain* by Wong Herbert Yee
- First the Egg* by Laura Vaccaro Seeger
- Jack's Garden* by Henry Cole
- A Seed is Sleepy* by Dianna Aston
- A Nest is Noisy* by Dianna Aston
- Mud* by Mary Lyn Ray
- Butterfly Park* by Elly MacKay
- Planting a Rainbow* by Lois Ehlert
- When Spring Comes* by Kevin Henkes
- And Then It's Spring* by Julie Fogliano
- Worm Weather* by Jean Taft
- Ava's Poppy* by Marcus Pfister
- Tap the Magic Tree* by Christie Matheson
- Hank Finds an Egg* by Rebecca Dudley

Picture Book Spotlight

Mud

by Mary Lyn Ray

Mud—gooey, gloppy, mucky mud. Some may consider it a nuisance, but for a child who happens upon a patch of mud after the first spring thaw, it's a perfect playground. Mud isn't something to be avoided—it should be plunged into and celebrated with happy abandon!